Francis Johnston, Reg. Gen.
The petition of Thomas Stewardson on behalf of himself and the other trustees for the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, bearing date Philadelphia, 5th Month 17th 1799, stated as follows, viz. That a certain John Collins had in consequence of fraudulent deeds poll, obtained patents for two certain tracts of land, one situate in the county of Northumberland, surveyed to Samuel Caldwell in pursuance of a warrant dated in 1774; and the other situate now in Luzerne county, surveyed to said Caldwell by a warrant also dated in 1774—and requested that patents might be granted, for the said tracts, to William Crammond, Edward Tilghman, John Ashley, and Thomas Stewardson, trustees of the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, as the said two tracts were part of the estate of Meese and Caldwell.
Whereupon the Board having considered the same, ordered that at least sixty days notice be given in one of the Philadelphia newspapers, and in the Lancaster Journal to the said Collins or his assigns, to appear before the Board on the first Monday in October next, to shew cause if any he or they have, why patents should not issue for the said two tracts to the said trustees agreeably to the prayer of the said petition.

PHILADELPHIA,

FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 16.

SUBSTANCE OF

LORD AULKLAND's SPEECH,

In the Houſe of Peers,

On the proposed Address to his Majesty, respecting the Resolutions adopted in the House of Parliament, as the basis of an Union between Great Britain and Ireland.

"It appears, that the total value of our imports and exports, in the year 1793, was ninety five millions ſterling; above twenty two millions higher than the average value of the four laſt years of peace.

"This aſtoniſhing amount will be placed beyond all ſuſpicion of exaggeration, when I remark, that the true value of the imports, amounting to 46,963,000l. has been obtained from a ſtrict enquiry into the prices current, as well as from the duties payable at a ſpecific rate, in proportion to the true value of each article, which value has been adjuſted by the officer with importers and dealers. The valuation of the exports, amounting to above forty eight millions has been aſcertained in a manner nearly ſimilar; and it is not to be preſumed, that however undoubted the integrity of the merchants may be, they have paid advalorem duties beyond the true eſtimate; and certainly the total, which already much exceeds all our prior calculations might fairly be carried to above one hundred millions ſterling.

"The Britiſh manufactures exported in '98, and which make a part of the great total of ninety five millions, amounted to no leſs a ſum than 33,600,000l, being 6,477,000l. higher tnan the average export of our manufactures in the four laſt years of peace.

"The annual average import into Great Britain from Ireland, during the laſt four years of peace, was about 4,900,000. and for the three years ending the 5th of January, 1799, it was above 5,500,000l. being an increaſe of about 600,000l. Upon our intire trade with Ireland, the annual balance in her favour is above two millions; and upon the interchange of the products and manufactures of the two countries, the balance in favour of Ireland is above 3,400,000."

"The cattle and proviſions, furniſhed by Ireland to Great Britain amount to no leſs a ſum than two millions ſterling and annually; A duty too, producing about 30,000l. is charged in Ireland on that whole export and yet, we prohibit in time of peace the admiſſion of proviſions from other countries, and do not even permit the United States of America to ſent proviſions to our Iſlands and fiſheries.

"I now come, my Lords, to the exported manufactures of Ireland, which are nearly comprized in the ſingle article of linen. I am content to take the valuation as it is given in the papers before us (1s. 5d. per yard) though I believe it to be below the true average price. It appears then, by the accounts on your table, that, in the laſt three years, the annually import of Iriſh Linens (being thirty ſeven millions of yards) amounted to 2,600,000l. to which may be added linen yarn, the valuation of which was 245,000l,

"The import into Great Britain, in 1743, when the preſent ſyſtem commenced, was 6,418,009 yards; in 1773, it was 17,86,000 yards; in 1783, 21,000,000 yards; and in 1798, 37,000,000 yards.

The export, with bounty, in 1743, was 40,900 yards; in 1773, 2,832,000; and in 1798, 6,400,000 yards. The general reſult are, that of the whole amount of Iriſh exports to all the world, about eight ninths are ſent to Great Britain and to Britiſh dependencies, that of the exports from Ireland to Great Britain amounting in value to 5,600,000l. nearly the whole is received in our ports free of duty, but is ſubject to exports duties in Ireland, and contributes there to her local revenue as a charge impoſed on our conſumption. On the other hand, that what we ſend to Ireland is about a tenth only of our whole export; that about two fifths of what is ſo ſent to Ireland, conſiſt of foreign articles exported free of duty. That though the entire trade of Ireland with this county is about one ninth of our whole commere, the revenue received upon it, of being one ninth of our cuſtoms, is leſs than 140th part. For example, that Ireland pays only 47,500l. in duties of cuſtoms upon the whole of her trade with us, at the ſame time that we are receiving from other nations in cuſtoms 6,850,000l. and even from that ſmall amount of 47,500l. we pay on the average about 35,000l. a year in bounties on Iriſh linens. But it is not merely that the imports from Ireland are free of duty here. What we export to Ireland is highly charged by her. She accordingly raiſed annually on her trade with Great-Britain and the Britiſh dependencies, by the average of the three laſt years, a revenue of 622,000l. of which ſum 194,000l. were levied on Engliſh products and manufactures. The duties, which ſhe levies annually on her whole trade with all other parts amount to about 209,000l."

INTERESTING NARRATIVE.

(Communicated by Captain Stanwood for publication in the Mercantile Avertiser.)

In the ſhip Montezuma from Kingſton, in the Iſland of Jamaica, arrived at the Port of Philadelphia, on the 30th ultimo, came paſſenger capt. Lemuel Stanwood, late maſter of the ſnow Chatham, of this port, which veſſel was owned by Mr. Thomas Buchanan, merchant of this city. Captain Stanwood ſailed from Montego-Bay, in the ſaid iſland, on the 15th May laſt, bound for this port; and on the 23d of the ſame month, on the north ſide of the Iſland of Cuba, was brought to by the Britiſh frigate Maidſtone, Roſs Donnely, commander, who ſent ſome of his officers on board to examine the ſaid veſſel and her papers; and after examining them, returned the papers; after which they ordered all the Chatham's crew on the quarter-deck; they then told captain Stanwood, that he had a great many men, to which he replied, there were no more than ſufficient to protect his veſſel; the officers then picked out a number of men, and ordered them into the ſhip's boat; on which captain Stanwood told the officers that he hoped they did not mean to diſtreſs him, by taking the men they had ſelected, as they were thoſe he chiefly depended on for the protection of his veſſel and cargo, and that he wiſhed to ſee the captain of the frigate before they took any of his men out of his veſſel. This they poſitively refuſed to comply with; on which captain Stanwood declared, that they ſhould not take the men before he had ſeen captain Donnely, without taking him alſo. On this declaration the officers permitted him to go on board the frigate.

The firſt ſalutation from captain Donnely to captain Stanwood was, "You damn'd raſcal, what buſineſs have you on board this ſhip?"—to which captain Stanwood replied, that his buſineſs on board was to intercede with him not to take his men, who were the ſole protection of his owner's property; but finding his intreaties in vain, he told captain Donnely, that if he took the men, he ſhould certainly proteſt againſt him for all the damages which might accrue; on this captain Donnely told him, he was a damn'd impertinent raſcal, and he would flog him, and ordered the quarter-maſter to take him to the gangway, which was immediately done; but not thinking it proper to put his threats in execution, he ordered his people to put captain Stanwood into the boat, at the ſame time ſaying, he wiſhed he could get ſome hold of him; and that if he could, he would ſend the veſſel back to Jamaica. Some time after he had returned to his veſſel, himſelf and a Mr. Peter Brown, a paſſenger, were ordered on board the frigate.

Capt. Donnelly then demanded of him, where he got thoſe two ſmall guns that were not mentioned in his commiſſion? He told him they were the property of Mr Brown; on this Donnely aſked Mr. Brown if the guns were his property? to which queſtion he anſwered in the affirmative, and that he had lent them to capt. Stanwood for the greater ſecurity of his veſſel and cargo, until he could diſpoſe of them to advantage; on this Donnelly ſaid that Stanwood was a dam'd impertineut raſcal, and that he would ſend the veſſel back to Jamaica for having theſe guns on board. He immediately ſent his boat on board the Chatham, and took out all the crew except the ſecond mate, and put a prize maſter and ſent a number of ſeamen on board, and ordered her to Kingſton. Capt. Stanwood begged he might be permitted to go in his veſſel, but, Donnely ſwore he would be dam'd if he ſhould, and ordered him on the fore-caſtle, nor would he ſuffer him to write a line by the Chatham, or any other veſſel they ſpoke with. In this painful ſituation capt Stanwood remained until the 4th of June, when howos put on board the Alarm frigate, Roberts Roots, commander, to be ſent to Kingſton.

The treatment he received on board the Alarm, was much worſe then he had experienced on board the Maidſtone; occaſioned by his requeſting the purſer to ſell him a little flour, or ſome peaſe, as the bread he ſerved with was rotten, and he had nothing elſe to eat but ſalt beef. This requeſt being communicated to captain Roots, he ordered captain Stanwood to be immediately confined between two guns, with a centinel over him, with a drawn ſword, both night and day; and that he ſhould not be ſupplied with any thing more than the ordinary allowance. Capt. Stanwood was confined between decks and not permitted to take the freſh air for a moment, except on the moſt urgent neceſſity. In this ſituation he remained until the 26th June, when he was landed at Port Royal.

Captain Stanwood ſtayed a Kingſton until the 10th July, with an expectation of the ſnow's arrival, but as three was no intelligence received reſpecting her, he concluded ſhe was either taken by the French, or loſt.

A true ſtatement of facts.
LEMUEL STANWOOD.

On Friday night laſt, about half paſt 9 o'clock, as Mr. John Duncan was returning from Courtland-ſtreet to his lodging at the Greenwich Hotel, he was ſtopped on the road by two black men and one white man, one of whom preſented a piſtol to his breaſt, commanded him to ſtand or he was a dead man. Mr. D. began to parley with the fellows, but finding it uſeleſs, he endeavored to extricate himſelf from them, which they prevented by knocking him down, where he lay ſome time ſenſeleſs, and after recovering, he found they had robbed him of his pocket-book, containing Bank Notes to the amount of Four Thouſand Dollars, and a military land warrant.

The following was received by capt. FITCH, arrived yeſterday from Savannah:

Savannah, July 30.

Laſt Saturday put in here in diſtreſs, the ſchr. Little Tartar, of St. Thomas's, in 19 days from Cape Francois; brings accounts of proviſions being very ſcarce: Every thing quiet at the Cape—Gen. Touſſaint at the time this veſſel left the iſland was at Port au Prince, having recently had an engagement with Rigaud, in which many lives were loſt on both ſides, though the former was in the end victorious—No talk of any treaty with the Engliſh, the people being averſe to it.

The ſchooner Mary Ann, capt. Hughes, ſailed from this port for Baltimore, on Monday laſt. Gen. Gunn, Mr. Tho's Young, Mr. Thomas Scarborough, and a number of other gentlemen, went paſſengers.

Auguſta, Auguſt 3.

A TALK from the Cuſſeittaw king, to colonel Joſeph Phillips, of Green county, dated 24th June, 1799.

Friend & Brother,

I MAKE no doubt but you and the white people are uneaſy, and think it long to hear from us reſpecting the white man that was killed laſt ſpring; it gives us all a good deal of concern, as we can't find out the murderer: We have made all the enquiry we can, but can't get proof; and to do any thing only on ſuſpicion will not be right—As there was at that time different towns people and Cherokees alſo, it is hard to judge—but time, I hope, will find out the guilty; and I could wiſh that we could once bring the guilty to ſuffer, as we have had too many inſtances of the innocent's ſuffering.

You may be aſſured that it is my only wiſh to find out the guilty, and let it be who it will, I will not conceal it, as I want the truth to be found out, then we may all be ſatisfied and know the murderer. I beg the favour of you, to be ſo good as to acquaint all the white people that it is my deſire and wiſh that it could be found out—and for them not to be raſh in taking ſatisfaction, as you all may be aſſured of my beſt endeavors to bring the guilty to juſtice.

Until then I am your friend & brother,
CUSSEIT TAW MICO,
King of Cuſſcittaw.

Col. Joſeph Philips.

I do hereby certify the above to be a true copy from the original.
JOSEPH PHILIPS.

Louisville July 30.

Extract of a letter from Col. Hawkins, to his Excellency Governor Jackſon, dated Creek Nation, 17th July, 1799.

"The Cheehaw Mico has viſited me and ſhewed me your addreſs to him, having here the public interpreters, I had it interpreted to him, in preſence of ſeveral Chiefs, and it produced thoſe ſenſations which it was calculated to inſpire.*

"I have addreſſed the chiefs on the improper conduct of young M'Intoſh and demanded in your name that the negroes ſhould be ſent back, and informed them that if he (M'Intoſh) had claims, the courts of Georgia, were the proper places to determine on them. The affairs has been received by them ſo as to determine me to lay it before the national council which is to convene as ſoon as the Booſkeuth is over, which will be ſome time in Auguſt. I ſent a demand down in the neighbourhood of Kennard, for ſome negroes in that quarter, belonging to citizens on the ſea coaſt, and received aſſurances that they were apprehended, and ſhould be ſent down to fort James, and lately an Indian informs me, that two belonging to the late Joel Walker, one to Mrs. Bailey, one to Mr. Waldhaur, are taken down by Kennard, and that one other has been apprehended on his way to the nation, and delivered to Lieut. Thompſon at fort James.

I left this on the 16th of April and returned on the 12th of this month, I went to Penſacola at the requeſt of Mr. Ellicott, to arrange matters with the Indians of this agency, to inſure to the commiſſioners and their aſſiſtants, a ſafe paſſage through this country. The ſurveyor with the guide line arrived on the 22d of June. The line ſtrikes the river about 20 miles above the mouth of flint river. There has been a feeble ſhow of oppoſition from the Seminoles.

"I believe the Murderer of Moreland is diſcovered—he is ſaid to be a Cuſſitah man. I have demanded him, and expect to be able to report to you the iſſue next month."

* This addreſs was the talk given to the Chehaw King by the Governor in this town when he paid him for his ſtolen horſe—and which we are informed has had the happieſt effect in the nation.

‡ A young half breed, who under ſome pretence of claim to them plundered Mrs. M'Intoſh of Malo, in M'Intoſh county, of all her prime hands—leaving the unfortunate widowed lady with ſix ſmall children, with ſcarcely the means of ſubſiſtance.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Coneca, 256 miles from the Miſſiſippi, to his friend at Wilmington, (N. C.) dated 23d May.

"At a meeting lately held in this place with the Creek Indians, they have allowed an eſcort of two Chiefs and 20 Warriors, to inſure the ſafety of the party who are running the boundary line between the U. S. and the Indian territory, which will be completed in three months."

From a Correspondent.

The executive directory has published an arrete respecting their satisfaction with the conduct of Victor Hughes, while at Guadaloupe. Well done, thou good and faithful servant, having sufficiently plundered, persecuted, and murdered all from whom any thing could be got, pour the fruits of thy labor into the national lap, of which we have the custody: Thy name shall be enrolled on the list of worthies, such as Robespiere, Folvered, Santhonax &c. and, should it be the will of Satan to continue our kingdom, we will again send thee to torture the citizens of the United States, for thou delightest in the misery of man—his groans are music to thy ears when they precede the acquisition of extorted wealth. COMMUNICATIONS.

IT ought not to surprise any one, to find the democrats of Pennsylvania using their utmost exertions to ensure the election of one, entertaining their own sentiments and views, to succeed our present Governor. But that their choice should have fallen on Thomas M'Kean, is wholly unaccountable to every one who has any knowledge of his present sentiments, or past conduct. Altho' he at present stoops to their filthy embraces, that he may make them the instrument of his elevation, yet he is known to be, in his opinions and his habits both public and private, the most arrogant, selfish, and intolerant aristocrat that Pennsylvania ever gave birth to. This is demonstrated by his conduct in every period of his life, previous to his present supplicating and servile deportment, to the seditious horde of democrats. But it will be sufficient to attend to his inefficient endeavors to render that government a complete aristocracy (in one branch at least) to the administration of which he now makes his pretensions. The Constitution of Pennsylvania is amongst the most democratic, and amongst the best, of the state Constitutions: but let it be remembered that it was rendered so, not by Thomas M'Kean, but by his present opponents, not with his consent, but against all the opposition that he was able to make. He who, but a few years ago, exerted all his talents and all his influence to introduce an aristocracy into Pennsylvania, now affixes the term "aristocrat" as a mark of reproach upon those, who then successfully opposed him, and who still oppose, and will again defeat him: he who then desired it to be established, that there should be no recommendation to power but wealth, now has the meanness to load the wealthy and the industrious with the most slanderous epithets, and to court the poor and the profligate for their votes. To those Pennsylvanians, who have taken the trouble of observing the conduct of their public men, and the succession of political occurrences, this sudden change will appear in its proper colors. To those who are less solicitous about public affairs, it may be proper to produce the following facts, from the minutes of the 2d session of the Convention which formed our present state Constitution, pages 152, 165, 167, 170, 171, 172. This may be the more proper at present, because the quotations are not of empty professions, which are easily pronounced when occasion requires, and as easily forgotten, and are calculated and intended to gull the credulous multitude; but of deliberate opinions, formed with much care, and pressed with much anxiety and perseverance. His plans were that no man should be qualified to fill the office of Governor, nor of Senator, that did not hold a certain property, which was thought sufficient to exclude the men of small estates from either of those offices.

He required "that no man should be eligible as Governor, unless he held a clear, real and personal estate of the value of four thousand dollars." Whether Mr. M'Kean was then acquainted with the pecuniary embarrassments which incumbered his democratic excellency who now so honorably fills the first post in the state; and meant by this trick, to remove out of his own way, the great, though unmerited popularity of the confidential friend of the French minister Fauchet, depends upon conjecture only, a source of information too unsatisfactory to be relied upon.

But his plan of a Senate was such as to deserve the severest reprobation, of every honest American. It is matter of astonishment, that whilst the dying groans of our countrymen, slain in defence of liberty and republicanism, still vibrated on our ears, this man, with professions of patriotism always on his lips, should have made the bold attempt to subvert the system so lately established; to destroy the blessings so hardly earned. In forming the Senate, he proposed,

1. "That the people should have no direct voice or vote in their choice; but that they should be chosen by electors." So that the men to whom the people direct their choice, who now represent them, would scarcely ever have been the objects of the choice of these electors, who, possessing their own private views, and acting to promote their own private interests, would always have selected such as would answer their purposes.

2. "That the Senators should represent equally the property and the taxable inhabitants of the state," or, "that they should be apportioned according to a compound ratio of taxable property and taxable inhabitants." That is to say, that they should be the direct representatives, equally of the wealth and of the population of the state. The effect of it would have been, that the Senators would have all come from the towns and rich settlements of the state, and represented them almost exclusively. For a neighborhood of 100 men owning each £100 would have precisely the same weight in the election, as 10 men, owning each £1900. And yet, where industry and virtue have much less to do in the acquisition of wealth, than chance and fraud, it will be difficult for Mr. M'Kean to establish the position, that a virtuous, enlightened and enterprizing man possessed only of £100, is less worthy of a vote than the stupid and dishonest possessor of £1900, unless he can first make the world believe in his declaration, "that every poor man is a rogue." But he strenuously contended,

3. "That no man should be eligible as a Senator who did not possess a real estate of the value of £500." That is to say, that no monied man, how great soever his property; no merchant, how intelligent, industrious and successful soever, could be eligible, unless he would consent to draw part of his funds from trade, and vest them in lands. Who does not see in this the very essence of the aristocratic principle? Who does not see in it an attempt to revive the exploded European systems! But lest any disposition to murmur against laws enacted by these Senators should exist in the minds of the people; lest any hopes of speedy change should encourage their discontents, he proposes, lastly, that these Senators, thus chosen, not by the people, but by electors; representing, not the people, but the wealth of the state; and selected not, necessarily, from amongst the aged, the experienced, the intelligent or the virtuous, but from amongst the possessors of real estates—

"That they should be chosen for, and serve six years."

Now, what in the constitution of the English Parliament, which has been so much theme of invective in this country, is worse than all this. That Parliament is compoted of men of certain property; they represent the men of property, and are chosen by them; they are apportioned amongst the rich and populous districts of country, and come principally from the towns of England; and they serve for a long period of time. But such also was the plan of our present Chief Justice, for a Senate of Pennsylvania. And yet this man is now stiled "the friend of the people"; and those who opposed his plan, who procured its rejection, and who established in its stead, one that gives all authority to the people, are now unjustly branded as enemies of the people,—aristocrats—friends of monarchy.

If the people of Pennsylvania can be so far led astray, as to believe Judge M'Kean to be a democrat, to be any thing but the most devoted enemy to the true republican and representatitve principle; if they can be so forgetful of all that he has done and attempted; and will be so blinded to their own interests, as to trust to his present delusive and empty promises and professions, and to choose him for their Governor; who is there, amongst us, that will not have reason to deplore the effects of so fatal a credulity and weakness? The Federalists know him to be in his disposition, oppressive and capricious, and have therefore always refused to confer upon him that confidence which he sought: If the democrats should succeed in forcing him upon the public, they will, when too late, have equally to lament, with their opponents, the common ruin that will overspread us. It is impossible that the habits and sentiments of a man, long settled and confirmed in favor of arbitrary authority, should be suddenly changed: his political plans and opinions have long been matured, and he waits an opportunity of carrying them into execution.—And let those beware, who trust to the deceitful tears of the crocodile, shed only to allure his prey into his power. "The Lion changes not his skin; nor the Leopard his spots."

Twenty thousand FRENCHMEN, and twenty thousand UNITED IRISHMEN: What a precious horde of Sans Culotte cutthroats are these to teach what true liberty is! And Americans remember, there are men among you, your countrymen too, who declare they wish these ruffians would come into the United States to teach Americans what true liberty is!!!—Pennsylvanians, would you like to be governed by a man whose wish it is to have these villains for your political teachers:—If you do not wish it, look well to your election for GOVERNOR.

Capt. Reily, of the brig Newton, from St. Croix, was informed by a gentleman from Tortola, that Lord St. Vincent had completed the destruction of the Spanish fleet, 11 of which were dismasted—The accounts were received by three different opportunities.—The French fleet had returned into Brest.

YORK, August 3.

MR. HAMILTON,

You have published the proceedings of what is called a meeting at Hanover, (M'Alisters town,) consequently you will have no objection to publish the following advertisement. You may rest assured that said Meeting was an imposition upon the inhabitats of York County. The nomination of about 163 persons was done by not more than 6 persons, without knowing the sentiments of one half of those they nominated, and without the advice or consent of their fellow citizens.

We have every reason to believe that notwithstanding the 6 nominators endeavoured to name every man of their party of any influence—yet not more than one third (if any) of those they have named, will become tools to such poor authority—and not more than one third of them will vote for M'Kean. Of this we shall hereafter give you satisfactory proof:

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Whereas we the subscribers, find in the York Gazette, No. 179, that by a Republican meeting which was held the 20th of this inst. at Hanover; among others, we have been nominated and appointed a Corresponding Committee, to assist and support the Eelection of Chief Justice THOMAS M'KEAN, to the Office of Governor;—we think it necessary to inform the public, that this was done by the said meeting, without our knowledge, and against our wills; and likewise to inform the citizens who composed said meeting, that we decline serving in said appointment.

YORK, AUGUST 8.

MR. HAMILTON,

Please also to publish the following.—These declarations will be followed by others, and it will be ascertained that in York County, the friends of Mr. M'Kean will be few indeed. Every good American seems now determined to vote for JAMES Ross of Pittsburg.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

WE, the subscribers, being greatly surprized and mortified, to see our names inserted in Citizen Solomon Myer's York Gazette, No. 179, as members of a Corresponding Committee, nominated at the REPUBLICAN MEETING (as it is called) held at Hanover, the 20th ult. for the purpose of supporting the Election of Monsieur THOMAS M'KEAN for Governor of Pennsylvania; which appointment was made without our knowledge, consent or approbation, but, as we presume at the instance of the printer; we do therefore declare that we will not serve under said appointment. If any of the nominated Committee choose to be led by a FOOL, they are welcome; we, for our part, think proper to decline it.

The Swift-Sure,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

NOW RUNNING BETWEEN

PHILADELPHIA & NEW-YORK,

By the ſhort and pleaſant road of Buſſleton, Newtown, Scotch-Plains, Springfield and Newark.

THE excellence of this road, the populouſneſs of the country through which it paſſes, with ſundry other advantages, which render it ſo far preferable to the Old Road through Briſtol, Brunſwick, &c. long ago ſuggeſted the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough-Fare from Philadelphia to New York. During the preſent year, a minute ſurvey of it has been taken, and its ſuperiority over the Old Road, both in winter and ſummer, has been clearly aſcertained.—There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the croſſing is performed with great ſafety and in leſs than half the time required at the Trenton Ferry. The road is ſeveral miles ſhorter than the old road, but this is amongſt the leaſt of its advantages, becauſe daily experience proves to us, that diſpatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depend on the goodneſs of the road and the levelneſs of the country, and, in theſe reſpects, the New Road is, beyond all compariſon, the beſt. It preſents none of thoſe rocky hills, which render the Old Road ſo fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The ſoil, too, for the greater part, is ſuch as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little duſt in ſummer, which circumſtance, added to the beauty of the country, and a conſiderable proportion of ſhade, muſt always render travelling in the latter ſeaſon peculiarly agreeable.

The Swift Sure ſtarts from PHILADELPHIA, at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, oppoſite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth ſtreet. It goes through Frankford to Buſtleton, where it ſtops to Breakfaſt; from Buſtletown it goes through Newtown to Penny-town to dinner; from Penny-town through Hopewell, Millſtone, Bound-brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield to Scotch Plains to lodge. The next morning it ſtops at Springfield to breakfaſt, from whence it goes through Newark and arrives at New-York at noon.

From NEW-YORK it ſtarts at 3 o'clock in the afternoon (from Paulus Hook) and arrives at Philadelphia the next evening. For ſeats at New-York, application may be made to Edward Bardin, Old Coffee houſe, to A. Mathieu, corner of Naſſau and John ſtreets, to B. Many, no. 48, Courtlandt, corner of Greenwich ſtreet, and to Michael Little, at his hotel, no. 42, Broad ſtreet.

Fare for paſſengers, Five Dollars.

Way paſſengers 6 Cents per Mile.

Each paſſenger is allowed to take on 14lbs. of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken on by a paſſenger, will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With reſpect to packages ſent on without paſſengers, the proprietors preſume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other lines of ſtages, they think muſt meet with general approbation, They pledge themſelves to make good every package on the following conditions. The perſon who delivers the package at the office ſhall ſee it entered in the ſtage-book, for which entry he ſhall pay 6 cents; he will then ſtate the value of the package, and pay (excluſive of the carriage) one per cent. on the value, as inſurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for inſtance, if he eſtimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent. and if at one hundred dollars, he will pay one dollar inſurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few perſons it is preſumed, will diſlike this regulation; it will however, be optionable with every one to avail himſelf of this ſecurity or not. But the proprietors think it right to ſtate very expliecitly, that they will be reſponſible for the ſafe delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an inſurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the diſtribution of the route, the greateſt care has bren taken to fix on ſuch places and taverns as always afford a good accommodation and entertainment for the paſſengers at the moſt reaſonable rates The ſtages are well equipped furniſhed with fleet and ſteady horſes, and committed to the care of intelligent ſober and obliging drivers. The proprietors themſelves live at the different towns and villages where the ſtages will ſtop, ſo that the conduct of the perſons they employ is continually an object of their attention.—They take care alſo to ſee that the paſſengers are well provided for and politely treated at the taverns, and that no ſort of chicanery or inſolence is practiſed upon them; in ſhort, they have ſpared neither pains nor expence to render the SWIFT-SURE the very beſt line of ſtages in America.

The line has now run nearly a month, during which time a great number of gentlemen have gone through, both from Philadelphia and New-York. Every paſſenger has found the road to ſurpaſs very far all that has been ſaid of its excellence; and the Proprietors of the Swift Sure are extremely happy to hear the behaviou, of their drivers, and the treatment at Taverns ſpoken of with the higheſt ſatisfaction.

At a meeting of the viſitors and governors of St. John's college in the State of Maryland, on the 13th day of July 1799,

Reſolved, That on the firſt day of October next, this board will proceed to elect a Profeſſor of Engliſh and Grammar, who ſhall receive, for his ſervices, at the rate of £200 per annum, to be paid quarterly; and that public notice thereof be given, &c. &c, Teſt, A. C. HANSON.

N. B. The office aforeſaid hath juſt become vacant, by the reſignation of a gentleman, whoſe affairs require, the immediate undertaking of a voyage by ſea.

It is the duty of the ſaid Profeſſor (to whom is allowed an aſſiſtant) to teach the Engliſh language grammatically, and to prepare ſtudents for a ſuperior ſchool, by teaching them the Latin grammar, the Vocabulary, and Cordery. Writing is to be taught to all his ſcholars at ſtated hours; and to thoſe ſtudents who are not deſtined for the ſuperior ſchool, are to be taught, at the diſcretion of their parents, or guardians, Arithmetic, and other branches of ſcience uſually taught in Engliſh ſchools—A complete knowledge then of Latin, Arithmetic, &c. is conſidered indiſpenſable in the profeſſor; and it is expected, that candidates who are not known to the Board, will ſubmit to an examination, as well as produce ſatisfactory teſtimonials of their good morals, and fair characters.

The Printers within the United States are requeſted to inſert in their papers the foregoing reſolution and remarks, and to repeat the publication, as often as convenience will admit, until the 20th day of September next.
